BARING UNION CHRISTIAN COLLEGE
BATALA

COLLEGE PROFILE

The Baring Union Christian College owes its existence to the vision and devotion shared and nurtured by Rev. Francis Henry Baring and Miss Charlotte Marie Tucker, and many other educational reformers. With mutual support Rev. Baring and Miss Tucker established Baring School in 1934.

To serve and empower the people of the region the school was upgraded to a College in 1944 upto Intermediate classes. In March 1947, despite the communal disturbances the college started functioning again. After partition, this was the only Christian College in North-West of Delhi. A full graduate program was introduced in 1948 and Post Graduation was introduced in 1966. Baring is one of the oldest colleges in Punjab affiliated first to Panjab University, and later to Guru Nanak Dev University. Interestingly the country mansion of Maharaja Sher Singh (Son of Maharaja Ranjit Singh) was chosen as an ideal setting for learning by Rev. Baring.

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Students,

It is a pleasure to welcome you to Baring !

Baring Union Christian College is a historic and renowned co-educational institution catering to the needs of the students by providing quality higher education. The College has a distinct identity as Baring Union Christian College Association (BUCCA) has tried to inculcate human values on the biblical principles of love, compassion and sacrifice in the students.

In the present context of globalization, higher education has a responsibility to prepare a highly qualified, knowledgeable, trained, hardworking, efficient, empathetic and virtuous workforce. To fulfill this task, the college has relentlessly engaged itself upon the task of nurturing the youth on the principle of 'information and formation'. Various kinds of knowledge should be used for the formation of cohesive and liberal society based on the values of distributive justice, equity, freedom, tolerance, respect and dignity to the masses at large.

BUCCA has created more extended infrastructure in the sphere of computer science and information technology to keep the college in tune with changing times. I am happy to say that Baring has been keeping good academic standards in the face of changing socio-economic realities of the region. This has been made possible because of the determined efforts by the management and sincere involvement of the faculty and students.

In fact, collectively we should be able to respond to the new challenges involved in blending ethics with efficiency. Similarly, we must maintain teaching of humanities and social sciences along with natural sciences and technology to humanize the society. Recent natural disasters teach us to refrain from over-exploiting the natural resources and make development sustainable for future generations.

Teachers of today have a duty to play a pivotal role of balancing the conflict between the material and spiritual needs of our students. Young minds have immense potential and great expectations from us, so it is our utmost duty to sincerely nurture them innovatively by becoming role models for students. May God help us to envision and empower these young minds !

The Most Reverend Dr. P.K. Samantaroy
